

---

Dr. Michael Hanemann

Professor, Department of Economics
Arizona State University

Other ASU Affiliations:

- Professor, Center for Environmental Economics and Sustainability Policy
- Water Institute
- Distinguished Global Futures Scientist

Education:

- Ph.D. Economics, Harvard University 1978
- M.A. Public Finance and Decision Theory, Harvard University 1973
- M.Sc. Development Economics, London School of Economics 1967
- B.A. Philosophy, Politics, and Economics, Oxford University, England 1965

---

Biography

Dr. Michael Hanemann is a professor of economics with the W. P. Carey School of Business and a Julie A. Wrigley Chair in Sustainability in the School of Sustainability at Arizona State University (ASU). He is an environmental economist who works in the areas of water economics and policy, climate change and non-market valuation. He is also the director of the Center of Environmental Economics and Sustainability Policy at ASU.

Prior to ASU, he was a Chancellor's professor and professor of environmental and resource economics in the Department of Agricultural and Resources Economics at University of California-Berkeley, where he served from 1968-2011.

For more information on Dr. Hanemann, please visit the following hyperlink.

---